DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rhee et al.
(US Patent # 6,421,400).

Regarding claim 19, Rhee teaches a soft-decision decoder (Fig. 2, block 110) in which soft decision value is obtained for the later stage decoding of information bits of a multibit phase shift key symbol (see col. 3, lines 22-33). The decoder (110) uses a squared Euclidean distance metric calculation for making the soft decision for the decoding process (col. 3, lines 33-34). This calculation uses equation (1) that includes all steps that are required by the claim, especially taking the angular differences between an angular estimate (O) and an ideal angular value (O_i)(see Fig. 7 and col. 5, lines 1-20), comprising the steps of: receiving one or more signals (Quantized signal) in wireless receiver (Fig. 2) as a result of a transmission of a signal in which the multibit phase shift key symbol is encoded (column 1, line 65-column 2, lines 1-11); forming a received estimate of said multibit phase shift key symbol (receiving a signal point that includes a radial component R and an angular component O) from the received one or more signals (Quantized signal of Fig. 2); and forming a soft decision value for said particular bit based on angular differences between said received estimate (q) and ideal values (O_i) for said multibit phase shift key symbol (using $\cos(O - O_i)$), where (O_i) is an ideal value for a PSK constellation signal point.

Art Unit: 2616

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 16-18 are allowable.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: As to claims 16-18, the prior art of record does not teach obtaining a first angular difference between polar coordinates of the received estimate and polar coordinates of a nearest in angle ideal symbol having zero as a value for the particular bit; obtaining a second angular difference between polar coordinates of the received estimate and polar coordinates of a nearest in angle ideal symbol having one as a value for the particular bit.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 16-19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
